Homecoming of the Blue and Gold

Football players and students alike anticipate the homecoming in sight. Clubs and students hustle to make banners for tomorrow's fight. Stories of past homecoming were being told, as they worked on through the November night. As they all lie down for a night's sleep, they vision the homecoming prelude of the blue and the gold.

Friday November 5, 1985 was homecoming eve at UNH. The fun and celebrations had already started as students came from everywhere. The homecoming spirit swept through school with a hurricanes fury as celebrations rocked north campus with an earthquakes vengence.

Students had long awaited the big day. Homecoming was once delayed as Hurricane Gloria whipped New England. But the day had finally come and set the stage for the showdown betwen the UNH Chargers and the powerhouse Towson State.

Saturday November 6, 1985 was homecoming day! The weather was perfect. It was a perfect 48° and the rays of the sun were out in full force. It was a family day as parents of students came from far and near. It was a day for reunion as the university community welcomed alumni, students of years past.

After everyone settled in, the time had come for the annual parade. The parade is an annual event to let our clubs and organizations show their school spirit. The parade included banners, floats, The Jackie Robinson Middle School Band, a big red fire engine and our King and Queen.

As the parade progresses and everyone moves to North Campus, the tension builds. The showdown between UNH and Towson State was surely going to be an exciting one. Towson State was nationally ranked number two in their division. UNH who struggled early in the year but came off an impressive win over number one rival Southern Connecticut State University. Towson State was already on the field when the Chargers ran out cheering their battle cry like Roman warriors on their chariots.

Towson State scored first but the shouts and cheers never stopped. Students, faculty, alumni and parents all supported their boys in blue. It was 7-0, Towson State when the Chargers scored 7 points. Everyone knew we could do it. When the Chargers scored 14 more points, everyone knew we were going to do it. The final score was 27-7 in favor of . . . THE CHARGERS! and everyone knew, WE DID IT!! Pandemonium broke out. Students danced, faculty rejoiced and alumni cheered.

When all was through and the band went home, the day was too much for some. The day went perfectly, the Chargers won, in the heat of the afternoon sun. Most students prepared for greater heights, that waited for them at parties that night. Afterwards we will patiently wait, for the Homecoming of '86.

The Race is on ..... D.S.G. Fall Elections

Politics on campus is one activity that lets the daring show their stuff. Wit, cleverness and sometimes a smooth tongue is enough to take you to the top of the political adder. On the fall political scene at UNH, records were broken. A record 30 seats were available. Day Student Government President Anthony Santucci, commented that the seven extra seats were open because of the tremendous demand. "The enthusiasm and the interest level this year has simply been remarkable, therefore we decided to open seven seats so that we can keep the student body well represented," commented President Santucci. When all is done, everyone waits anxiously for the results. Then they're here, the results! As the first few names are called off only the sound of nailbiting breaks the impending silence. As the rest of the names are called off, shouts and cheers rang through the halls of the Student Center. When all is done and the smoke clears, only the strong survives. Those who weather the storm are inaugurated and trained for the heat of the D.S.G. For the unlucky, there's always next year.

Halloween

Ghosts, gobblins, witches and devils all celebrate that special day when they can come out and play. The day is October 31, better known as Halloween. Halloween at UNH, was a highly celebrated event. The day was one when both student and professor alike can see the animal in each other. While the day was a little break from English 110, the evening belonged to the ever popular Halloween mixer. It is said that music stocthes the savage beast. Well, the Halloween mixer was a time when creatures of the darkness got out and got loose. Dancing to the tune of Miami Vice in the midst of flashing lights, a party was breaking out. Fun is the name of this game. When the devils are done and ghosts are gone, we get back to our daily routine with Calculus III. But someday, somewhere, somehow creatures of the night will be back to haunt thee.

Are You Convinced?

If you are not convinced about seat belts, climb aboard the convincer! "Buckling up saves lives and prevents injuries", says the Connecticut Department of Public Safety officer M. Garofalo. Officer Garofalo held a seat belt convincer demonstration in front of the Student Center. It is most likely that similar events had occured all over the state to support the seat belt law which sent into effect shortly afterwards. Whether one was convinced or not, not wearing seat belts is now against the law.

Blood Drive

The Zeta Beta Tau fraternity has sponsored the bi-arc Cross Bloodmobile for more than 10 years. The blooder one way to get the university community involved in the national community. It also helps create a type of family bond between all students to achieve a common goal.

The typical routine starts with eating a good meal. Then comes paperwork and the thousand questions game. Over to the blood pressure station is what's next, where they take your blood pressure and 'prick" your ear for a blood specimen (that was the easy part) And then . . . to the blood station. The hardest part is sitting for five minutes watching everyone else's blood, but the actual process is fun and painless.

The goal for the school years 1985-1987 is 500 pints of blood. As of 1986, 239 pints have been donated.

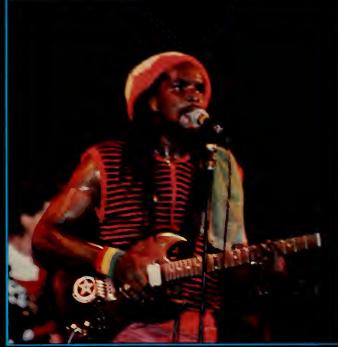

Editors Note: The Zeta Beta Tau fraternity wishes to thank everyone who contributed and hopes that you join us next year.

Fall Concert

Totally unbelievable!! So much life and excitement came to UNH when Pablo Moses and the Revolutionary Dream Band. Valley of Kings, and of course Shannon performed before a hoisterous crowd back in November. These well talented groups brought many to the Gymnasium away from their studies. Just for one night these groups filled many souls magically with smiles. What a concert!!

Schedule

Mixers

Rock 'n' Soul Mixer September 7th
Comedy Nite — September 12th
WNHU Rock Dance Party — September 19th
Magic Show — October 2nd
International Mixer — October 12th
Step Show — October 18th
Motown Nite — October 24th
Ray Boston — November 6th
Schemers — November 7th
Rock-Out with Dr. Rock — November 13th
Dan McCarthy — November 15th

This year UNH tried something new, fresh, and exciting!! Every mixer varied from the next. They all had a unique theme. To name a few there was the Sadie Hawkins, Jama-Rama, Toga, Nerd, Punk Nite, Motown Nite, International, and even a Rock and Soul mixer. A great effort was put forth to try to entertain every type of student.

UNH students created a beach atmosphere proved that shorts were not just for the had a hot Hawaiian style Video Beach Party.

UNH took a step back in time when it presented this time tunnel explosion. The tunnel gave viewers a panorama of Rock videos dating back to the 50s. This presentation took viewers from an era gone by up to the music of today. This demonstrated the changes and similarities of the nation's music.

Rock & Roll Time Tunnel

What a delight to see students challenge their physical abilities in performing the most outraseveryday lesson, but one achieved by the many United Way.

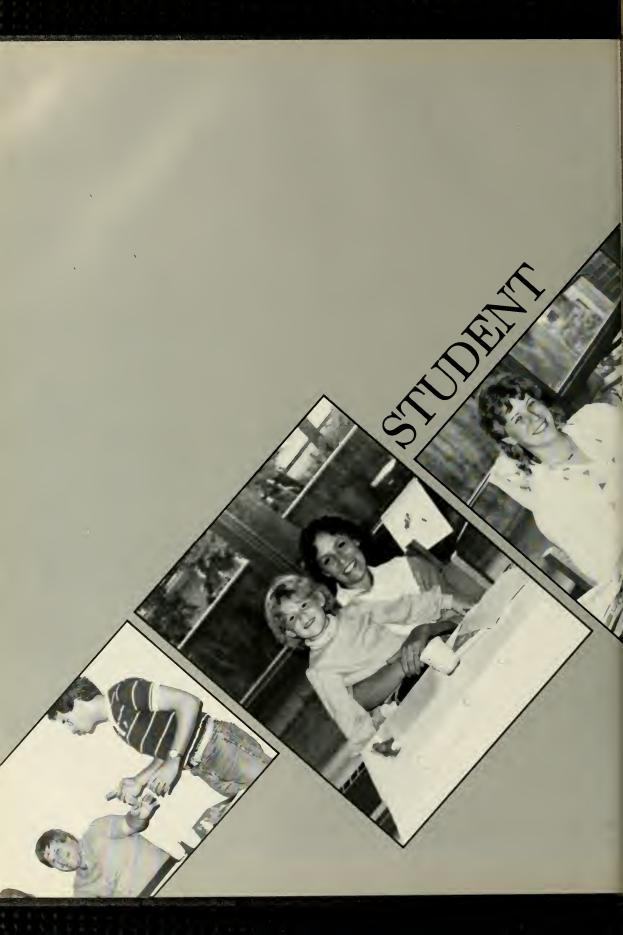

The clubs and organizations on the following pages are all made up of truly spirited UNH people. Although many times gone unnoticed by the average UNH student, these clubs put together numerous activities for the betterment of the UNH community and for the enjoyment of fellow students. The clubs and organizations exist for a variety of purposes from professional to service to social. Featured here is only a small demonstration of the services provided by the clubs. The Hotel-Restaurant Society is offering its professional services to the administration, the Computer Club staged a home computer show, ZBT sponsored their annual blood drive, DSG got ready for Homecoming and the English Club was awarded first prize by Alumni Division for their Homecoming Float. These and many more are the activities of clubs and organizations which serve as the social backbone of UNH.

WNHU is a 1700-watt non-commercial, educational station licensed to the University of New Haven and has been in operation since 1972. Located at 88.7 FM on the dial, our signal radiates for 30 miles in every direction, thereby providing a variety of high quality programming to a large part of Connecticut as well as eastern Long Island. The staff, with the exception of the General Manager and Chief Engineer, is made up of UNH students and alumni who volunteer countless hours to the station. Our studios and offices are located on the ground floor of the university's Main Administration Building at the West Haven campus.

Our programming consists of a mixture of the new music, jazz, urban contemporary, gospel, rock 'n roll and international music; news via Associated Press; locally produced public affairs shows and coverage of UNH men and women's athletic events.

The Chariot

The Chariot is the organization that throughout the year works at taking the entire year and capturing it on this 272 page book. This year's staff changed faces throughout the year, each person contributing their time when they could spare it. With the help of Ginger Ale, 7-11 and their Slurpees, occasional water gun raids and much chocolate, the staff met all the deadlines. One might remember us by the phrases we popularized, "Come flash your pearly whites," "I did it and I'm glad," and "Why don't you come up and see me sometime . . . Don't forget to make an appointment."

Hot Acoustics

Once again this dynamic duo proved to be a night filled with musical delight. The married couple which makes up Hot Acoustics filled the tavern with energy filled music. This appearance however, saw an added feature. Our own UNH students Don Brown and Stuart Lessner provided break time entertainment. It was a pleasure to listen to both amatuer and professional entertainment.

You Are AMean One, Mr. Grinch!

The Student Center Lounge had with of who's from whoville with a special guest appearance of Mr. Grinch. In The Little Side presented a national distribution of "The Grinch Who Stole Christmas." The play was performed for the Big Brother Big Sister program of New Haven. Some UNH student also stopped by conjoy the performance. Following the play Santa Claus came by to hand out some candy canes and enjoy cookies and punch with the ads. As always, the with had a chance to be Santa know a out their Christman list.

Clothing Drive

The week of November 12th was set aside for the 7th bi-annual Clothing Drive. The Drive is the combined work of Delta Chi associate members, Omega Delta pledges and Chi Kappa Rho pledges. The Clothing Drive is put forth to benefit the Salvation Army.

UNH Opens Up New Health Center

On the 6th of February the ribbon was cut for the new Health facilities. Located on the bottom of Parc Vendom, these facilities now offer two examining rooms, a work area, a sick room and a large waiting/reception room. The Health services staff consists of two RNs and an MD who keeps weekly office hours. The center offers treatment for colds and minor injuries. It also offers a special women's center. Faculty and staff gathered in the newly acquired German Club to celebrate the opening of another new facility at UNH.

Moonlight and Roses

Chi Karpa Rho presented their 21st annual fashion show. "Moonlight and Roses" was the theme for this elite affair. Models wore fashions from Dress Barn. Outfits included shorts, tresses and suits. The impressive show ended in Bridal Fashions by Lady Paris of Milford. The featured models and their escorts were selected from faculty and various clubs and organizations on campus. The night continued with wine and cheese. There were door prizes and a raffle, featuring a 14 karat gold bracelet as Grand Prize. The show is annually held in honor of XKI's founder, Virginia M. Parker. Proceeds from the show are donated to the University of New Haven in honor of Mrs. Parker.

You are walking down the hallway and you see that girl that you have been waiting for for 18 years. You walk closer and closer to each other. You are caught in their beautiful brown eyes. The person smiles at you and you simply melt into nothingless. He or she stops to talk. They ask you out on a date despite your knocking knees. After riding down the Auto-Bahn in your luscious red convertible riding machine on a cool summer night, you go back to their place. It is a perfect evening and you are about to make that first big step, that first big score and then . . . YOU WAKE UP!!

The average college student sometimes dreams this dream. College functions like the Dating Game can sometimes supply the imagination with this fallacy. The dating game is a popular event at UNH that lets everyone loosen their collar and take a chance on that lucky mate. For the winners and sometimes losers alike fun is the name of this game. Thanks to our host Richard Solano, and our sponsor Kim Searles, social director, all 300 students in attendance felt that the event was a great success.

The Cafe

The Cafe is a student oriented room. From morning coffee to night time entertainment the Cafe is a versatile campus meeting place. In the morning students come in for the "Java" to get them going for early classes. Those with more time to spend have Mary and Carmel cook them up one of their famous breakwiches. In the afternoon students catch up on their soaps by watching the big screen TV (as long as it is working). At night music is always on. Whether it be MTV or the stereo. Meal plan points come in handy when students come in for a late time snack served by our own Don, Dieter and Suzanne. Occasionally the Cafe features entertainment. This semester we saw UNH student talent with Eric Metzger one night and the Ruden St. Rockers another. The Cafe was changed in name from the Tavern this year due to its versatile uses.

Black History Month

Black History month is an annual celebration in honor of the Afro-American and African Culture. Held every year during the month of February, UNH students got a chance to share the celebrations and customs of the native land. The Month featured events that improved our minds and souls. The month kicked off festivities with the Black Theater Festival which was a festival of plays that told about the Black struggle in America.

Other activities featured Mary Wong Comedians, Georgia State Senator Julian Bond, the Dating Game, and the finale featured the cultures and customs from islands in the Caribbean. Puerto Rico to the Dominican Republic all came out to share their cultures. From the Bermuda limbo to the Curry Chicken of Jamaica the exposition and the month was for the whole family.

Dr. Harricharan receives Distinguished Teacher Award for 1986

Dr. Wilfred Harricharan serves as the chairman of the Management and Marketing department for the University. During January's Commencement, he was honored with the award of Distinguished Teacher. The selection process for the award is based on student nominations presented to an award committee in the form of a petition. Dr. Harricharan was chosen for this award by his colleagues and students for excellent performance both in the classroom and advising capacity. Dr. Harricharan comments "For whatever reasons the students had in mind for nominating me, I must say that it is because I have been motivated by the people I work with: my dean, associate deans, the faculty and staff of the department and above all the student themselves. I can only say that as long as you give your very best, the students will regard you highly."

Career Day '85

Career Day for the 1985-86 school year was held in the Student Center Lounge. This biannual event featured more than 60 companies from all over the country in such fields as Accounting and human resources. Career Day provides college students with some information in their prospective fields of employment. Approximately 255 students attend each of the Career Day activities. Most students felt that it was an excellent experience, and looked forward for future Career Days.

Tuition Hike Protest . . .

Mr. Benevento, Vice-President of the University announced at a DSG meeting that tuition was to be raised next semester. The Day Student Government was upset, they didn't want another raise in tuition. Plans for protest went right into production. The next Thursday a platform was set up and UNH students were provided with entertainment for the protest. A group of students boycotted classes and battled the cold on the main lawn that afternoon. Later in the afternoon President Kaplan invited six or seven students up to his office. DSG executives and the media spoke with him. The result was the university needed the increase to maintain basic costs. It was later found out that UNH was increasing tuition according to nationwide standards.

Housing Picnic

The residential staff of Olympic Heights, Helen Ann, Parc VenDome and the Residence Hall gathered forces and funds to provide the on campus students with an afternoon barbecue. The RAs cooked up chicken, hot dogs and burgers for the hungry students who came out to eat. Despite the chilly weather, students enjoyed themselves playing volleyball and socializing with the residents of all UNH housing.

Claire Day

There was an air of celebration on campus, and it was not a St. Patrick's Day celebration, although the date was indeed March 17th. The UNH community was celebrating the birthday of our all-time mother, friend and indispensible aide-DSG secretary Clarice Sorcinelli. The DSG office was full of beautiful flowers sent by students and faculty — a demonstation of love and appreciation. There were refreshments, including a large punch bowl, and the School of Hotel and Restaurant served Claire a superb tableside lunch, completed with a fully uniformed waiter. "I Love Claire" buttons could be seen everywhere on campus. The day was topped off with a mime leaving balloons and a birthday message. Throughout the day friends old and present stopped by to show their appreciation and love for Clarie.

Spring Elections

This year's elections saw more candidates than the last three years. With four presidential candidates and two treasurer candidates, debates were difficult. The presidential candidates represented four different sections of the university with four different philosophies. All the candidates had a balance of experience and knowledge. The candidates for treasurer saw a Freshman battling it out against an upper-classman. The senatorial race has become over the years a tough one. Many students run for the senate seats on the DSG.

After weeks of preparation and hard campaigning the results were announced in the Cafe on April 23rd.

Springfest

For the first time in a long time, it didn't rain on May Day. This year called Springfest the entire weekend had chilly but sunny weather. The stage was set high on top the hill and the music played. The opening band featured a local group called MIRACLE LEAGION. Miracle Legion gave the day a booming start. North Campus then began to boogey-down with EVELYN CHAMPAGNE KING. The day's music extravaganza was then finished off with everyone dancing to the sounds of MARSHALL CRENSHAW. Springfest weekend gave everyone the chance to release their tensions and have a good time before the grueling final exam period.

 $\mbox{John Valby},$  the king of dirty songs starts off the springfest weekend with a full house.

Carnival

STEP RIGHT UP and try your luck. Springfest carried over into a carnival as the end of the year celebration continued. Parking lot 3 became UNH fairgrounds as students rode the swings and the Scrambler. The menu for the day featured candy apples, popcorn and cotton candy. Some students tested their strength by attempting to ring the bell. Others tried their skill at the rifle range while others warmed up their pitching arm. The lucky winners sported stuffed animals while some just drown their losses in the tent featuring the "Bud".

Bad Breath came out smelling good in the annual Air Guitar Contest sponsored by the Communication Club. Once again UNH students put on star-studded performances to a standing-room only crowd. This year's event featured a backstage monitor for the convenience of the contestants. The stages' backdrop gave the performance a city atmosphere. UNH students fulfilled their musical fantasies by transforming into their favorite stars. This Communication Club event has built a tradition of competitiveness which carries itself year to year.

Beach Party

This event found UNH students modeling some of the latest OP wear. Everyone at UNH thought just for the night that they would turn into UCLA. The Student Center was packed with beach goers ready for a night of dancing in the surf. Once again the party spirit was as high as a California tide as Social put on another Beach Bash!

ISA Banquet

Once again the International Student Association culturized UNH in the most extravagant way. The annual event began with exhibits from places all over the world. UNH foreign students set up informative displays about their home countries. The exhibits included slide shows, TV promotions, native dress and brochures.

Following the exhibits a lavish buffet of foods from countries such as Malaysia, Venezuela, Mexico and Lebanon was served. For a touch of America a member of the Hotel Restaurant Society carved a turkey.

A short speech by the Mayor of West Haven preceded a medley of song and dance performances by the students. The students demonstrated their native culture in a delightful evening of entertainment.

To The Graduates

Please accept my warmest congratulations upon the completion of your degree at the University of New Haven. It is my hope that your educational experience at the University was rewarding and valuable and that these years will prove to be the most formative years of your lives. I also hope that your education becomes the foundation upon which your careers and values are based. Your education should provide you with a critical cast of mind in the sense of a capacity to test and challenge previous assumptions and new ideas, a sensitivity to weigh ethical and moral issues, and enable you to obtain rewarding and productive employment in a complex and technological society.

Senior Night

Senior Night, although a little late, occurred this year. It gave Seniors a chance to rummage through old pictures and reminisce about old times. Sponsored by the DSG and the yearbook, the night included hot Hor D'ouevres, champagne punch and musical entertainment by Rent-A-DJ.

James Gerowin, Class of 1985 Paul Millette, Class of 1986 William Ruddock, My loving grandfather

JANUARY 28, 1986 — IN MEMORIAM

Words cannot describe the sorrow that is felt when you lose someone. Our nation lost a part of itself when the shuttle craft "Challenger" suddenly ignited in a tremendous explosion just after takeoff. Many times we take for granted our friends or the things they do for us, may we be cast aside in shame — lest we forget the sacrifices made by others for our gain. Man is always attempting to change things or conform elements to his advantage. This tragedy can only add to the basis of how assuredly insignificant mortal man indeed is in the vast universe we inhabit. STOP. THINK. WONDER. It shall be memorialized, but not forgotten, that dark day in January. May their souls rest peacefully.

James Gerowin

Paul Millette

"Think not thy time short in this world, since the world itself is not long. The created world is but a small parenthesis in eternity, and a short interposition, for a time, between such a state of duration as was before it and may be after it."

—Sir Thomas Browne. Christian Morals— Pt.iii.xxix.

No words can heal a sorrow felt. Only memories may make sorrow sweet. Our deepest sympathy to the families of James and Paul.

Credits

There are many people who through their everyday jobs help to put the yearbook together.

Many Thanks to:

Noel Tomas, Public Relations — For photographic contributions.

Mr. Benevento - For your guidance.

Pat Morgan & Catherine Cowles, Alumni Division — For your continual support.

Eric McDowell, Sports Information — For your constant cooperation. Cathy, Barbara, Alice and Neil, Bookstore — For your support and assistance.

Tony, Receiving — For your continual assistance.

Ross, Mailroom — For your perpetual service.

Michelle & the maintenance crew — For putting up with our mess.

Special Thanks to some people who are more than business associates, they are good friends.

Brian Hawthorne, Delmar — Thanks so much for your support, the lunches, the dinners, the trip, putting up with me. . .

Howard Legge, Yearbook Associates — You are a superb photographer and thanks so much for putting up with our hectic ways.

Claire Sorcinelli, DSG — You know you are special and without support and assistance the yearbook staff would be sent to the funny farm.

Many, Many, Many Thanks to the CHARIOT STAFF —

The only reason this book is done and out on time is because of all the work you all put into it. It's always great to work with good friends and hardworkers.

Editor's Note:

Just as Martin Luther King had a dream so long ago, so do I today. My dream is that the people of the world begin to realize that each individual counts. World peace can not occur without country peace, country peace cannot occur without state peace. This trend continues all the way down to peace among families and yes, peace among the school. It is not who we are, where we come from, what religion we preach or what color our skin is. Rather it is our purpose in life, our goals and our values. If every person could ignore their personal wants and needs and concentrate on others there would be more care and more cooperation among others.

I leave this school with some words of advice. No matter what school you attend, you get back what you put into it. After four years here, I am graduating with much more than any amount of courses could teach me. I've learned of business, politics, friendship, work, headaches, joy and in general what life is all about. College has taught me to think on my own and create my own person. I have put a lot of work into these last four years only to get back a lot of joy. My only regret is that not everyone can experience what I have and that some will never find what I have found.

My Final Words (although a little corny), Farewell but not Goodbye,

Life can be seen
as a series of bricks, each put together will make a wall.
Success is finding a
around or break through the wall.
